

Sin 6: Application of a statistics statement to an individual case

AI systems that rely solely on statistical models without considering individual patient circumstances can lead to incorrect or inappropriate decision making.

